

GLEN PARVA GALA 4 AUGUST 2012

Glen Parva Parish Council annual summer gala featured games, rides, drumming workshop, circus skills and ferret racing. This year proved a success with the inclusion of the National Festival Circus which was great fun with clowns, plate spinning juggling and other traditions of a circus. Whilst the weather held out for most of the afternoon the showers did not deter visitors. Along with Go Kart racing and an inflatable obstacle course, a mascot lion was entertaining children. Face painting, pottery making, bead workshops and refreshments were all arranged inside the Memorial Hall together with a display on the 50 years of Glen Parva War Memorial from 1962 – 2012.

Thank you to Asda for providing smoothies on behalf of the Fields in Trust, as part of the Queen Elizabeth II Diamond Jubilee scheme.

Thank you to everyone who supported the event. We are always looking at ways to improve this community event for the future and if you have any views or comments or would like to help with next year's event please contact the Parish Office.
